I am new member of BUSAC as a counsellor for Social Sciences, and thus far have been enjoying my experience on the counsel. During my time on counsel I have learned that the mere purpose of having BUSAC is voicing the concerns of students, and to find solutions to their concerns. As a counsellor I think that it is important that students are aware that they do have students just like themselves that are willing to be their voice. In addition to this, it is important that students are aware of what Brock has to offer, particularly events that will give students an opportunity to become actively involved within the University. To raise awareness, I have approached people in the department of psychology and being actively involved in the department it has not been a difficult task to complete. Whenever given the opportunity I would make announcements at Psych Society events, and to my other fellow peers. Since I have recently joined counsel I have yet to give my all however, I do hope to contribute and achieve more during the rest of my time on counsel. There are some personal goals and goals for us as a counsel that I hope we can achieve by the end of the year. I hope to further assist other students in voicing their concerns, and be more of an active participant in the decision making process, to ensure that decisions that are made are in the best interest of the students. As for us as a whole, we should continue to work as a team and do the best we can to better students University experience. I look forward to the rest of the year!
